0.019 Missing child

Children's safety is our highest priority, both on and off the premises. Every attempt is made, through the implementation of our outings procedure and our exit/entrance procedure, to ensure the security of children is maintained at all times. In the unlikely event of a child going missing, our missing child procedure is followed.

Procedures

Child going missing on the premises

- As soon as it is noticed that a child is missing, the relevant member of staff alerts our setting manager.
- If it is suspected that the child may have been abducted, the police are informed immediately.
- The register is checked to make sure no other child has also gone astray.
- Check that the building and surrounding area are secure; gates closed and locked with padlock, perimeter fences secure.
- The Preschool Manager will carry out a thorough search of the building and garden. During this time, another member of staff will telephone Icknield Primary School on 01223 508750 to ask them to secure the site and carry out a thorough search of the building and garden.
- If the child is not found, the Preschool Manager calls the police immediately and reports the child as missing.
- The child's parents or carers are then called and informed.
- A recent photo and a note of what the child is wearing, where possible, is given to the police.
- The Preschool Manager talks to our staff to find out when and where the child was last seen and records this.
- The Preschool Manager contacts our Chair and reports the incident. Our Chair comes to the provision immediately, where possible, to carry out an investigation with our management committee.

Child going missing on an outing

This describes what to do when our staff have taken a group on an outing. If our manager has accompanied children on the outing the procedures are adjusted accordingly.

- As soon as it is noticed that a child is missing, the staff members on the outing ask children to stand with their designated carer and carry out a headcount to ensure that no other child has gone astray. Children may be questioned sensitively.
- One staff member searches the immediate vicinity, but does not search beyond that.
- Our senior staff member on the outing contacts the police and reports that child as missing.
- Our manager is contacted immediately (if not on the outing) and the incident is recorded.
- Our manager contacts the parent(s).
- Our staff take the remaining children back to the setting as soon as possible.
- According to the advice of the police, a senior member of staff, or our manager where applicable, should remain at the site where the child went missing and wait for the police to arrive.
- A recent photo and a description of what the child is wearing, where possible, is given to the police.
- Our manager contacts our Chair and reports the incident. Our Chair comes to our premises immediately, where possible, to carry out an investigation with our management committee.
- Our staff keep calm and do not let the other children become anxious or worried.

The investigation

- Ofsted are informed as soon as possible and kept up-to-date with the investigation.
- Our Chair carries out a full investigation, taking written statements from all our staff and volunteers who were present.
- Our manager, together with a representative of our management committee speaks with the parents or carers and explains the process of the investigation.
- The parents or carers may also raise a complaint with us or Ofsted.
- Each member of staff present writes an incident report detailing:
 - The date and time of the incident.

- Where the child went missing from e.g. the setting or an outing venue.
- Which staff/children were in the premises/on the outing and the name of the staff member who was designated as responsible for the missing child.
- When the child was last seen in the premises/or on the outing, including the time it is estimated that the child went missing.
- What has taken place in the premises or on the outing since the child went missing.
- The report is counter-signed by the senior member of staff and the date and time added.
- A conclusion is drawn as to how the breach of security happened.
- If the incident warrants a police investigation, all our staff co-operate fully. In this case, the police will handle all aspects of the investigation, including interviewing staff and parents. Children's social care may be involved if it seems likely that there is a child protection issue to address.
- In the event of disciplinary action needing to be taken, Ofsted are advised.
- The insurance provider is informed.

Managing people

- Missing child incidents are very worrying for all concerned. Part of managing the incident is to try to keep everyone as calm as possible.
- Our staff will feel worried about the child, especially the designated carer responsible for the safety of that child for the outing. They may blame themselves and their feelings of anxiety and distress will rise as the length of time the child is missing increases.
- They may be the understandable target of parental anger and they may be afraid. Our manager ensures that any staff under investigation are not only fairly treated, but receive support while feeling vulnerable.
- The parents will feel angry, and fraught. They may want to blame our staff and may single out one staff member over others; they may direct their anger at our manager. When dealing with a distraught and angry parent, there should always be two members of staff one of whom is our manager and the other should be our Chair or another representative of the management committee. No matter how understandable the parent's anger may be, aggression or threats against our staff are not tolerated, and the police should be called.
- The other children are also sensitive to what is going on around them. They too may be worried. Our remaining staff caring for them need to be focused on their needs and must not discuss the incident in front of them although staff may question children sensitively. They should answer children's questions honestly, but also reassure them.
- In accordance with the severity of the final outcome, our staff may need counselling and support. If a child is not found, or is injured, or worse, this will be a very difficult time. Our Chair and Preschool Manager will use their discretion to decide what action to take.
- Our staff must not discuss any missing child incident with the press without taking advice.
